The process of dying is heterogeneous; it varies significantly based on medical conditions, individual psychology, cultural context, and spiritual beliefs. While no two experiences are identical, common themes recur, providing insight into what may be encountered during the final stages of life.

3. Loss of appetite and thirst: The desire to eat or drink diminishes as the body's energy requirements decrease.
4. Changes in skin color and temperature: Mottling, cold extremities, or pallor may occur.
5. Muscle relaxation and weakness: The muscles weaken, leading to difficulty in movement or swallowing.

Emotional and Psychological Experiences

The mental state during dying can encompass a wide spectrum of feelings:
